

Course Convenors should email a completed copy of the Scholarly Resource Impact Statement to: acquisitions@griffith.edu.au with the subject Scholarly Resource Impact Statement for Review.

The Scholarly Information Impact Statement informs INS, the Course Convenor and the School Committee on the strengths and weaknesses of the library collection as it relates to the proposed course. It is used to identify any new scholarly resources required so that INS can undertake adequate scoping of cost, licencing requirements and the sustainability of proposed scholarly resources prior to a new course / course changes being approved.

Discipline Librarians are able to assist in selecting scholarly resources.
